ROME (via Paris) May 27.—The following official statement was issued tonight:
"On May 25 on the Tyrol-Trentino frontier, the Italian troops occupied the heights of Montebello, from which point the enemy was forced to retreat, abandoning tents and materials. The Italian artillery located Tono and silenced the enemy's fire."
"In the Carnia, our soldiers around Valdegano are confirmed, the Italians occupying Sella and Prevala."
"In the Raccalunga Valley our losses were four killed and one officer and ten soldiers wounded. The enemy's losses were heavy."
"The general situation is entirely satisfactory."

AT THE ITALIAN FRONT (Friuli).
Wednesday, May 26, via Paris) May 27.—Italian gunners brought down an Austrian aeroplane today in the first contest of the Italian campaign between flying machines and anti-aircraft guns. An aeroplane, rising from behind the Austrian lines at 9:30 o'clock this morning, dived over the rocky ground in front of the Italian positions. A field battery opened fire as it came within range. The first shot missed. The second struck fairly, causing flames to burst from the motor. The aeroplane plunged downward and was splintered on the rocks.
This was one of the incidents attending the opening of the Austro-Italian campaign as witnessed by a correspondent of the Associated Press. Along this part of the front, where the Italians are advancing in the direction of Trieste, there were stirring scenes, although as yet there has been little heavy fighting.

The correspondent was permitted to go close enough to the front to obtain a panoramic view of the section of the fighting line. Visits to Sanandrea, Palmanova and other towns near the border furnished a good idea of the conditions under which the Italian advance is being carried on. At Palmanova it was possible to obtain a bird's-eye view of the surrounding country, which falls away from that point. The people of the village were watching the spectacle of cavalry charges and artillery action over the near-by front. It is a picturesque region of green hills and quaint villages, among which wind dusty white roads.
When the order was given earlier in the week for the advance across the border, the Italian troops were in readiness for the move. The command came at 2:30 o'clock in the morning, and half an hour later the soldiers were on the march. The infantry proceeded in long files, headed by sharpshooters. From converging roads came artillery carriages, motor trucks and detachments of cavalry.
The first shot of the war was fired by a frontier guard at Bellacqua, who, having seen in the semi-darkness a shadowy figure approaching, shot dead an Austrian soldier who was attempting to fire a mine. With the sunrise, artillery fire opened from the direction of Cividale. Italian troops everywhere sprang to the attack, fording the Idris, swarming across bridges and climbing the hills beyond.
From time to time tremendous explosions were heard above the roar of artillery. They marked the firing of mines, by which the Austrians were blowing up their bridges as they fell back. The Austrians made little attempt to halt the Italian advance, although elaborate preparations had been made along the border. Railway lines were obstructed by heavy beams, laid across the tracks, and fastened down with chains. The roads were blocked with trenches, trees and wire entanglements.
Brasiano is the first village on Austrian soil in which the Italian flag was flown. It was run up on the belfry of the village church.
At San Giovanni di Mazano, the correspondent saw the first of the Italian prisoners captured, a member of the Landsturm from Friuli. As he was brought into the Italian lines he kept repeating: "I am an Italian."
All along this section of the front there were signs of war. Roads were filled with long lines of transports and Red Cross automobiles. Everywhere battalions of soldiers were to be seen, held back as yet from the fighting line. Picking their way through the crowded roads were parts drawn by oxen, in which were women and children, with their household goods. Behind them walked the men, feeling from the battle-swept region.

ITALIANS NEAR TRIESTE.
(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
GENEVA (Switzerland) May 27 (via Paris).—A strong Italian advance guard crossed the Isontro River today after a sharp fight with an Austrian force and arrived before the town of Montebello, which is thirty miles from the Austrian coast of Trieste. The first of the Austrian wounded are now arriving at the latter place.
The Italians also attacked at several points along the forty miles of the Carinthian frontier.
A battle between the Italians and Austrians now is raging around Plesken and also west of the Pradol Pass in Austria.
In the fighting has been limited to skirmishes. Italian forces which penetrated the Tyrol at the end of the fighting, have reconquered the railway and are now marching on Gorz, the capital of the Austria crown land of Gorz and Gradisca.
Both the Austrian and Italian aviation services are very active along the front. Many machines have been gathered at Venice to protect the rail at Trent yesterday from Munich. A Zeppelin dirigible balloon is reported to be preparing to follow it shortly from Friedrichshafen, carrying a heavy armament of machine guns. Heavier guns have been mounted on the Italian gunboats on Lake Garda. Several regiments of Bavarian Alpine troops yesterday crossed Brenner Pass, which is 4,485 feet high, bound for Rosen. Between Salzburg and Innsbruck forty-five trains are passing daily, transporting men and material. Swiss patrols are marking the eastern frontiers of Switzerland with any of the Italian advance.

ITALIANS RUSH TO COLORED.
(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
ITALIAN FRONTIER (via Paris) May 27.—The rush to join the colors continues throughout Italy, the volunteers including every age and profession. Already two hundred men and Parliament and journalists of Rome have enrolled.
Leonida Bisolati-Bergamaschi, the leader of the Italian volunteers, has taken the rank of sergeant in the Fourth Alpine Regiment, stationed at the town of the valley of Aosta. The poet Gabriele d'Annunzio has received permission to serve as a volunteer on a warship.
Both the Minister of War and General Cadorna, Chief of Staff, have approved of the organization of a separate body of volunteers, and Poppino Garibaldi and his volunteers will take service with the brigade known as the Hunters of the Alps, which was founded in 1859 and was commanded as an independent corps during the war of Sardinia and France against Austria, by Giuseppe Garibaldi, the Italian patriot.

Virtually all those who have fought in the Argonne will join this body, and their former military positions, as far as possible, will be recognized. Poppino Garibaldi becoming a colonel of the regular army.

Viticultrualists Appeal to Congressmen for Relief from the Tax Placed on Brandy.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—Representatives of California's viticulture industry presented today to members of the Congressional party, recently returned from the Hawaiian Islands, their protest against the tax on brandy used for fortification purposes. It is pointed out to the Representatives that unless Congress revise the measure the use of California grapes for sweet wines in California would be eliminated. The law becomes effective January 1, 1916.

JACKSON SEA LORD.

British Government Names Him

Fisher.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LONDON, May 27.—Admiral Sir Henry Bradwardine Jackson has been appointed First Sea Lord of the Admiralty to take the place of Admiral Lord Fisher, who resigned recently owing, it is said, to differences with Winston Spencer Churchill, then First Lord of the Admiralty. Admiral Sir Arthur Knyvet Wilson will remain with the Board of Admiralty in an advisory capacity.

tonight, "do you think she would have entered the war at the moment when the Germans and Austrians were obtaining tremendous victories in Gallia? No. Her play would have been to continue a policy of indecision and wait until Germany and Austria-Hungary were exhausted and then join the allies. The latter would have welcomed her just as heartily then as they have done today."

DESIRE OUR GOOD WILL.
It is a matter of satisfaction to the administration that every one of the belligerent powers, not excluding Germany, desires the good will of the United States even at this stage of the war. In the Turkish matter, for example, the single great nation for whose public opinion Germany and Austria-Hungary are maneuvering is the United States. They want to obtain it by showing that Italy is in the wrong; that she deliberately has provoked war. This fact gives promise of a conciliatory attitude by Germany with reference to the President's Lusitania demands. On the other hand, Italy has explained her reasons for entering the war in a lengthy statement to all neutrals. Moreover, various matters which have come to the attention of the State Department establish the desire of the Rome government to preserve America's friendship. On the Pruth line and in Russian Poland the situation is unchanged. "In the southwestern theater, in the Tyrol and at some points southeast of Trent, the enemy began to bombard our frontier works with heavy artillery. In the Cordevole Valley, two Italian companies were annihilated by our machine guns.
On the Corinthian frontier there has been an unsuccessful bombardment. In the coast district the Italians have crossed the frontier at several points. Enemy detachments which advanced to our positions were repulsed."

RUSSIAN MORALE BADLY SHAKEN.

Austrians Isolate Przemyel,
may Capture it Soon.

Retiring Slav Forces Swept
by High Explosives.

Italians Cross the Frontier at Several Points.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
VIENNA (via London) May 27.—Isolation of the former Austrian fortress of Przemyel in Galicia, which has been in the hands of the Russians since March 22, is proceeding rapidly.
Austrian forces have reached the railroad between Lemberg and Przemyel at a point eighteen miles east of Przemyel.
The White Russian victory for the Austrians at Radynio, to the north of Przemyel, drove the Russians from the strong position which they held to the west of San River and forced them to fall back across the river under a heavy artillery fire which is described by an eyewitness as catastrophic. The retiring troops on attempting to gain bridges and ford crossings were shrapnel and high explosive shells from new Austrian six-inch mortars and lost heavily.
The morale of the Russian forces, which were composed largely of recently-organized reserves, has been severely shaken. Austrian military observers say, and this is declared to account for the large number of Russian and guns captured.

Nebraskan Torpedoed.

The members of the crew of the Nebraska were agreed that the explosion was undoubtedly caused by a torpedo.

The forward part of the ship is completely wrecked.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Ambassador Page at London cabled the State Department tonight that Capt. Greene of the American steamship Nebraska had given the naval attaché of the British embassy a sworn statement at Liverpool concerning the explosion on his ship off the Irish coast Tuesday and that the attaché was returning to London.

Lieut. Powers, the attaché, was accompanied to Liverpool by Naval Constructor McBride, who is expected to make an examination tomorrow with the hope of ascertaining definitely whether the Nebraska was damaged by a mine or by a torpedo.

The captain's affidavit will be forwarded to the State Department as soon as Lieut. Powers reaches London, but any decision as to action by the American government probably will be delayed until the constructor's report is received.

Many officials are inclined to the theory that the ship struck a floating mine. Naval officers say the upward explosion in the vessel as described by Capt. Greene is of the character which is more likely to have been caused by a mine than a torpedo.

Ambassador Page reported that he had begun an inquiry, sending naval constructors attached to the American embassy to make a complete examination on the Nebraska's arrival at Liverpool, where she was due late tonight.

A diplomatic action as a result of the incident will be deferred until there is definite proof of the cause of the explosion. Should it develop that the vessel was torpedoed, the fact that her flag had been lowered a few minutes before, at sundown, would weigh heavily upon the action of the American government, which always has insisted upon the exercise of the right of visit and search before an attack upon any merchantman.

There is no international convention in force relative to the laying of mines.

TIP BY VON BERNSTORFF.
Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, today formally presented a memorandum to the State Department, stating that the mines laid by Germany were of such a character as would become innocuous when used. Previously the British government had given the United States similar assurances. The laying of mines for the sole purpose of intercepting commerce was forbidden by the Hague convention, but there has been no general rule by which the prohibition could be interpreted, as it had claimed that all mines laid in the present war have been used for offensive or defensive purposes.

THE HAGUE CONVENTION.
The United States ratified the Hague convention on the subject of mines, but the convention is inoperative because most of the signatories did not ratify it. The principles laid down in the convention, however, were that the laying of unanchored contact mines should be forbidden and that all mines should be of such a character as to become innocuous immediately being detached from the anchorages.

The case of the Nebraska, if it should be found that the vessel was torpedoed, would be somewhat similar to that of the American tank steamer Guilfoyle. Although the German Admiralty is said to have denied that a German submarine attacked the Guilfoyle, the American government has concluded from the investigation of naval officers and such testimony as was furnished by the steamer Nebraska, that the ship was, indeed, torpedoed by a German underwater craft.

If it is proved that the Nebraska was partially wrecked by a bomb, the case would be similar to the mishaps to the American cotton ships Evelyn and Carly, which struck mines, the responsibility for which never has been fixed.

E. E. Duff, counsel for the company owning the Nebraska, who visited the State Department today, said the circumstances of the affair, particularly the damage to the bow of the Nebraska, indicated to him that the vessel struck a mine. The steamship officials, he said, held the same view.

ROME, May 26 (via Paris, May 27).—The hour which we are traversing is painful, but our prayers will go out more frequently and more fervently than ever to those who have in their hands the fate of nations."

A declaration made by Pope Benedict in a letter to Cardinal Vannutelli, published in the Osservatore Romano, the Vatican organ. The pontiff recalls his first encyclical in which he urged the belligerent nations to make peace but points out that his voice was unheeded and the war continued until "the terrible conflagration has extended to our beloved Italy."

The pontiff says he wants to hold a consistory early in June to discuss with the Sacred College matters of importance concerning the government of the church, but unfortunately the distressing events made this impossible.

"With our heart bleeds at the sight of so much misery," the Pope writes. "We have not neglected to continue our work for relief and the diminution of the deplorable consequences of war."

The Holy Father then recalls his efforts for the exchange of wounded soldiers unable to fight again. The needs of the soul, he writes, especially attracted his fatherly attention and exceptional facilities were consequently afforded all chaplains called by the colors or attached to the Italian army in any capacity.

The Pope then exhorts all Catholics to practice with him for three days a strict ecclesiastical fast and accords a plenary indulgence applicable also to souls in purgatory.

Continuing, the Pope writes: "I wish that the echo of our voice might reach to all our children affected by the great scourge of war and persuade all of them of our participation in our troubles and sorrows. There is little of the grief of the child that is not reflected in the soul of the father."

In concluding his letter the Pope gives his apostolic blessing to all the cardinals.

Polish Author Declares the Principle of Christian Love, Banished from Europe, Finds Lodgings in Hearts of Our People Generosity has Saved Thousands.
BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—Acknowledging a remittance of money for war sufferers, Henry Sienkiewicz, Polish author, in a letter received here by the Polish committee of the Emergency Aid Organization, said that America will become the "conscience of the world." "It seems," he wrote, "that the principles of Christian love and brotherhood, banished from Europe, crossed the ocean in search of a refuge. They found in the heart of the American citizen. The generosity of America has saved thousands of unfortunate from starvation, but the task of America is not yet accomplished. The help of God will, in the following years, become the conscience of the world and propagate the ideas of justice, such as the triumph of law over force and the restoration of freedom to all oppressed nations. The realization of those principles being the sole guarantee of lasting peace and happiness for mankind. The higher the United States will raise the standard, the greater and the more blessed will be their own mission. It is a difficult task, but the American nation is generous and powerful enough to accomplish it. The eyes of the civilized world are now fixed upon America, especially those who suffer look up to her with hope." A copy of the letter was sent to President Wilson.

Question of Evangelists' Right to Perform Marriages Creates Dis-

Next General Assembly—Commit-

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
ROCHESTER (N. Y.), May 27.—So far the one hundred and twenty-seventh assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States is concerned no further action will be taken on the Union Theological Seminary. The movement to offer resolutions disclaiming the right of evangelists to perform marriages was dropped today. The assembly decided to discontinue the controversy. The committee on temperance was given $10,000 for its work in the next year. An overture recommending that the assembly meet biennially instead of annually was rejected. An overture presented by the Ohio synod giving power to excommunicate pastors or elders who by any secret or overt act give aid to the liquor interests was approved by the assembly. The action not being retroactive does not affect the case of Dr. Charles H. Pankhurst. The question of the right of evangelists to perform marriages came up on an overture from the western synod. They objected to such poaching on the prerogatives of regular pastors. The assembly decided that a synod has no power to refuse this privilege to evangelists when such marriages are within the law of the Civil Code. A new synod, Wyoming, was ordered created. This makes forty-one synods in the church. Atlantic City was chosen for the next general assembly.

Prosecutor Perkins Declares Con-closures that Will Save His Life.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
NEW YORK, May 27.—No possible disclosures of police corruption or revelations of the identity of the man or men higher up in the division of money paid for police protection—no plea that he can make—will save Charles Becker from the electric chair, if Dist. Atty. Perkins can prevent it, according to an announcement made by Mr. Perkins today. In making his announcement Mr. Perkins took official cognizance of a current rumor that Becker, facing death for causing the murder of Herman Rosenthal, was willing to confess all he knows if his life should be spared. Becker's execution is set for the week of July 12. "No appeal for clemency can be made in any case of one properly convicted of murder in the first degree because of any assistance he might render to the authorities in the prosecution of offenses of a much lower grade," Mr. Perkins said. LASSEN PEAK IS SCALED;
OLD CRATER FORCED UP.
Many Boulders Found by Expert to Have been Thrown Out by Force of Eruption—First State of Formation Like that on Island of Martinique is Discovered.
BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—Lassen Peak was scaled today for the first time since the recent huge and devastating eruptions by a party of five men, led by R. S. Holway, professor of physical geography at the University of California. In a telegraphic report to the Associated Press tonight of his observations, Prof. Holway says that the two craters have undergone radical transformations, both now being filled. So far as Prof. Holway could judge, no mud was ejected, as has been believed, but that the old crater was a mud flood, that poured down into Hat Creek Valley, inundating many miles of farm lands. The result, he thinks, of the melting of the snow on the mountain's sides by hot ashes. The bottom of the old crater, Prof. Holway's message says, "has been literally shoved upward for fifteen or twenty feet by the pressure of mud from underneath." "The trap upon which the forest looked out to stand remains unchanged, as does the southerly rim of the old crater, except that it is deeply covered by volcanic ash and stones. The northerly rim of the old crater is broken and greatly changed. "From the site of the old lookout station one can look down into the headwaters of Hat Creek. The green meadows used for summer grazing are wastes of volcanic mud, made apparently by the ashes and melting snow. The pine trees on the edge of the meadows have their needles turned brown by the steam-heated ashes. "Hat Creek could be seen stretching northward for fifteen or twenty miles, marked by the mud deposited by the flood. "No mud was found ejected by the volcano. All the rocks around the rim are covered with dry powdered ashes and rock fragments. Where the ashes struck snow there is mud. "The vast quantities of steam in the recent eruption are sufficient indication that the ashes were not when ejected." "The weather permits, Prof. Holway says he hopes to visit the upper Hat Creek meadows tomorrow. HAT CREEK A PROBLEM. REDDING, May 27.—Lack of available water in Hat Creek Valley is proving a serious question for those who have homes and lands subjected to the havoc of the mud flow from Lassen Peak. At a meeting held here today on the water question a committee of the United States Forest Service was appointed to assist farmers in overcoming the gravity of the situation. A telegram was dispatched to Washington asking a scientific investigation with a view of relieving the present condition. It is hoped that a series of springs at the head of Hat Creek Valley may be developed to the extent of helping fill the banks of Hat Creek. Continued reports from persons coming from the volcano zone tell of the widespread havoc resulting from the eruptions of Lassen. The food situation in Mexico City is desperate and the International Committee has been making great efforts to relieve it. Officials assume that the seizure was at Puebla. A dispatch to the Carranza agency here today said Gen. Glorizales had established headquarters at Puebla for the campaign to recapture Mexico City.

CARRANZA AVIATOR FLIES
OVER THE VILLA LINES.
BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
DUGLAS (Ariz.), May 27.—With a party of two Texas rangers on the border, Carranza aviator Lawrence W. Brown made a reconnoitering flight of three hours today over Naco and Villa Verde, where the main army of the Villa troops in Northeastern Sonora are stationed. While flying over Naco Navarro dropped his hat. Brown denied any notes were dropped, which refuted stories spread by the Villa forces that an ultimatum demanding the surrender of the town had been delivered from the aeroplane. Messages from the south received at Agua Prieta today say Gen. Trujillo's force of 1500 Yaqui Indian troops are en route to invade the city. TEXAS ASKS PROTECTION. AUSTIN (Tex.), May 27.—The lower house of the Texas Legislature adopted a concurrent resolution today providing that the Legislature urge upon the Federal government "in the strongest terms the imperative necessity of immediately extending and regularly maintaining its Rio Grande border patrol force for the protection of lives of American citizens." The resolution partly was inspired by the recent killing by Mexican bandits of two Texas rangers on the border.

A BRITISH SUBMARINE
IN THE GOLDEN HORN.
[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
LONDON, May 27, 11:30 p.m.—The British Admiralty issued the following report from the vice-admiral in the Eastern Mediterranean: "The submarine E-11, Lieutenant-Commander Martin Ensmith, has sunk in the Sea of Marmora a vessel containing a great quantity of ammunition, comprising charges for heavy howitzers, several gun mountings and a six-inch gun. She was chased a supply ship with a heavy cargo of stores and torpedoed her alongside a pier at Rodosto. A small store ship was also chased and run ashore. "The submarine E-11 entered Constantinople and discharged a torpedo at a transport alongside the arsenal. The torpedo was heard to explode." bacco Jobbers' Association and the Independent Retail Tobacconists' Association of America filed with the Federal Court today a list of specifications. Action by the government in the case is asked. The specifications allege that the United Cigar Stores of America, competitors of the retailers, by purchasing supplies direct from the American Tobacco Company at cheaper prices than are demanded by the United Cigar Stores of America, have an advantage which enables them to undersell the retailers out of business. Mr. Gordan says:

May is almost gone. June is rounding the corner and with it comes—June weddings.

Some men are wondering what they'll wear. The "last word"—the proper thing for 1915 is a Cutaway Frock suitable alike for Day Weddings, Church, Promenade.

Materials for coat and waistcoat should be Oxford Gray or Black Worsted Vicuna. Trousers of the same materials or of a well-defined Striped Worsted.

And the Style? Waistcoats and coats for 1915 are flat-braided and natter, more trim than ever. Trousers, sleeves, waist—all are semi-military.

And "Gordan-made" on your clothes means something.

Do You Feel Depressed?

The form of influenza commonly called "the grip" is no respecter of persons. Rich and poor alike suffer from it.

The duration of the acute stage of the grip is short, a few days at most. Without complications it is never fatal. What makes the grip so dreaded is the miserable condition in which it leaves its victims after the cold and fever have run their course. Some medical writers refer to this "after effect" of the grip as a form of neurasthenia.

Depression of spirits, headache, thin blood, deranged digestion, over sensitive nerves—these are the usual after-effects of the grip, and they will continue even for months and years until the blood is built up and made rich and red.

After an attack of the grip all the vital powers of the body are at a low ebb. Building up the system with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the surest way to restore the weakened body. They have a special action on the nerves and every sufferer from the lingering effects of the grip should give them a trial. Your own druggist sells them.

Write today to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N.Y., for the free book, "Building Up the Blood." If you have a stomach trouble ask for a diet book also.

PRIZE SONG

CLUB'S CREATIVE DEPARTMENT
GIVES PROGRAMME.

Spirit of Tagore Poem Is Caught in Composition by Mrs. Botsford Given at Matinee Musical Meeting—Percira Sextette Adds to Fantages Bill.

BY EDWIN F. SCHALLERT.

More than usual interest was attached to the programme of the Matinee Musical Club's creative department last night by the fact that it included the song awarded first prize at the recent composers' contest. This was "Clouds Heap Upon Clouds," a setting of words from Rabindranath Tagore's "Gitanjali," by Mrs. Monimia Laux Botsford. It was sung by Mrs. Botsford Wheeler, with the composer at the piano.

Mrs. Botsford has caught something of the evanescent suggestiveness of the Tagore poem in her composition, which is characterized by its delicate and elusive harmonic touches. There is also apparently just a vague breath of orientalism about the piece. Besides this prize composition a group of Mrs. Botsford's songs were also given.

The programme also included six delightful preludes by Fannie Dillon as well as several charming violin compositions of Victor Schertzinger, the composer being the interpreter in both cases. Mr. Schertzinger was assisted by Mrs. Botsford Wheeler. The song which received honorable mention in the contest, "Norse Lullaby," a setting of a Eugene Field poem, by James W. Pierce, was given by Mrs. Gladys Stewart, the composer playing the accompaniment. Three songs by Edward Lebeque were also given by Mrs. Edith Morton Dooley, with Miss Dillon at the piano.

In the absence of Mrs. James Henry Ballagh, president of the club, who had been called out of the city owing to the death of her sister, Carl Bronson presented Mrs. Botsford with the prize medal.

Percira Sextette. For twenty minutes during each performance this week, Fantages takes on something of the atmosphere of a concert hall. This is during the act which is presented by Paul Percira and his five assisting musical artists.

They are no ordinary performers, the members of this string sextette, and while they have to cater to the popular taste in the selections which they give, they do so altogether detached from the artistry which they display in their work. It is unfortunate, of course, that men of this stamp have to waste their talents on popular melodies, but once in a while they manage to sandwich in a good selection or two that is not of the hackneyed type.

Alfred Hertz, who is to wave the conductor's baton in the coming production of "Fairyland" in this city, left yesterday for the East. He is to direct the performance of Wagner's "Siegfried" in the Harvard Stadium, which promises to be a memorable event in musical annals. He will return about June 7, and from then on there will be no let-up for his part in the activity of preparations for the giving of the prize opera. Meanwhile Mr. Hertz's assistant, Paul Eysler, is in charge of rehearsals in the former's absence.

On account of the vast size of the Harvard Stadium and the fact that the performance will be in the open air, Mr. Hertz regards the coming production of "Siegfried" as something of an experiment from a musical standpoint.

The cast which is to give the opera includes such artists as Gaddis, Schumann-Helms and Albert Reiss. On their return to this city Mr. and Mrs. Hertz will be accompanied by some of the "Fairyland" principals, such as Albert Reiss, Kathleen Howard and Albertina Rasch. Most of the others are now here.

An order of Surrogate Sawyer of Westchester county was also filed in the County Clerk's office at the same time revoking his decree of adoption signed on May 13, making the boy the legal son of his stepfather, Z. Frederick Lee of No. 153 South Broadway, White Plains.

The boy's mother was Georgia Crossman, the daughter and heir of George W. Crossman, New York coffee importer. Mrs. Mills divorced her husband in New York in 1911, and two years later was married to Lee.

She died here on May 2, last.

CLERK'S ERROR MAY SAVE HIM.
Murderer in Wyoming Says He Couldn't Commit Crime Thousands of Years Hence.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CHEYENNE (Wyo.), May 27.—The Wyoming Supreme Court today allowed a writ of error to the United States Supreme Court in the case of Oscar W. White, under sentence to be hanged June 4 for the murder of Anderson Coffey. White's appeal is based on the contention that his conviction of a crime, alleged by official information to have been committed August 12, 1901, seventeen thousand one hundred years in the future, is a violation of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

The mistake in the date, which should have been August 12, 1911, was due to a clerical error in neglecting to correct the printed date on an old indictment book.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

Stanton Memorial Services.

Memorial services for those of their members who have joined the majority during the past year will be held by Stanton Post and Corps, G.A.R., in Patriotic Hall this evening. All are invited.

A Talk About Food.

"What We Forget in the Food Question" will be the subject of an address by Dr. Axel E. Gibson to the members of the New Jersey State Association at No. 325 West Seventh street this evening. The public is welcome.

Drab for Rangers.

The fifty rangers employed in the Angeles National Forest will be fitted out with uniforms made of what is known as drab forestry cloth, consisting of riding breeches and a coat and Stetson hat. The cost of the uniforms will be about $20, which must be paid by the men. The suits will be made by a Cincinnati concern.

Pioneers' Housewarming.

Association will hold a housewarming on the occasion of their first meeting in the new Times Building next Wednesday evening. The program of the program, arranged by Edward Nittinger, will be operatic and instrumental music by Mrs. F. J. DeHospietal.

Law Lyceum Banquet.

Members of the Law Lyceum, the largest literary and public-speaking organization in the college of law, University of Southern California, will hold their farewell banquet of the year tomorrow evening at Christopher's. All former members are invited to attend, and each present member is privileged to bring a friend. Superior Judge McCormick will be the principal speaker of the evening. The club's newly-elected officers are: John C. Haynes, president; Richard C. Glass, vice-president; Gregory M. Creutz, secretary; and Myron W. Silvestone, publicity secretary.

Temple Band Brith.

Sabbath services at Temple Band Brith will be held this evening at 8 o'clock, and tomorrow morning at 10:30, with the children's service preceding at 9:45. Dr. Hecht will be in charge, and taking cognizance of the approaching Memorial Day, will speak tonight on the subject, "Lead We Forget." Tomorrow morning he will speak on the current Scripture lesson, and address the children at their service. The music will be according to Prof. E. J. Stark's composition, and this evening Kipling's recitation, set to music by Dr. Hecht, will be rendered by the baritone, Mr. Edwin House.

BRITISHER TO GERMANS.

Speaker dwells on what he styles America's Duty in the Hour of the Crisis.

Reynold E. Blight, active member of the British-American League, addressed the Germania Turnverein last evening on "America's Duty in the Hour of Crisis."

"To be an American is greater than to be an Englishman or a German," he declared. "We ought to remember with tender memory and deepest affection the land of our birth and ancestry, but we ever remember that the United States is the land of our adoption and to her largest welfare we daily consecrate our lives and sacred honor. Should war threaten, the world would find us, English, German, Russian, rallying with a whole-hearted devotion around the Stars and Stripes."

"The United States must keep the peace. The whole race will be infinitely the loser if we should be drawn into the terrible abyss of war. After this bloody convulsion we must bind up the gaping wounds and heal the world's pain. The United States must so conduct herself that she may retain the respect of all nations and be in a position to assume leadership in the march of mankind onward toward the realization of international justice, universal brotherhood and world-wide democracy."

"America is the melting pot of the races and our destiny is to demonstrate that children of all nations may not only live together in peace and amity, but may intelligently and constructively co-operate for mutual benefit."

WORKS PLAYS RESERVE ACT.

TELLS CREDIT MAN NEW BANK LAW IS A FAILURE.

Shows Democratic Violation of Party Pledge to Put Bill Through Congress Via Secret Caucus—F. B. McCormack, Elected New President of the Association.

After analyzing the various features of the Federal Reserve Bank Act, Senator Works warmly criticized the measure at the annual banquet of the Los Angeles Credit Men's Association at the Jonathan Club last night. The Senator's remarks about the new banking law will be followed later by a favoring discussion before the credit men by John Perrin, one of the high officials in the reserve organization.

"If this bill was enacted for the full benefit of the general public," said Senator Works, "it matters not what it cost, but if it is only for the benefit of a class, it is dangerous and expensive. The Democratic party had to violate their Baltimore platform to force this law through Congress. It is unfortunate that it was made a purely political question. The bill was born of the secret caucus, and one thing suspicious about it is that it received every Democratic vote, even to that of Senator Hitchcock, who thought it right up to the time he was forced to get into line by the secret caucus."

"I do not believe the law will stand very long as it is. It may be patched up and amended, but it is doubtful if it can be made effective."

The credit men elected F. B. McCormack president to succeed J. D. Simpson. A. K. Carr was elected treasurer and Gustav Heimann secretary. W. C. Musket was re-elected secretary without opposition. The following will serve as directors: J. D. Simpson, E. J. Levy, H. Platau, H. Louis, L. Kimble, F. M. Couch and P. E. Fielding, Jr.

END COMES SUDDENLY.

Civil War Veteran Who Was Prominent in Illinois Republican Politics Dies Here—Interment in East.

Stricken in the night, C. P. Dutton, Civil War Veteran and prominent in Illinois Republican politics, died suddenly early yesterday morning at his winter home, No. 7104 Franklin avenue, Hollywood.

Mr. Dutton had spent his winters in Los Angeles for the past thirteen years and had built a handsome rustic bungalow for his residence here. He retired Wednesday night apparently in his usual health, except that he complained of a slight headache. During the night Miss E. I. Mayborn, whose father and Mr. Dutton were life-long friends and who resided with him, heard Mr. Dutton groan. Going to his room, she found him unconscious. He died in a few hours. The cause of the death was given as cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Dutton resided in Geneva, Ill. He was 74 years old and served during the Civil War with the One Hundred and Twenty-sixth New York Regiment. He was at one time Collector of the Port of Chicago and many times a delegate to national Republican conventions. He was a widower and leaves two sons, who reside in Aurora, Ill. The body will be taken to the mortuary. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, but the remains will be shipped to Geneva for interment.

Ivor Thomas; vice-president, F. F. Hahn; secretary, E. H. Spencer; directors, W. J. Musau and Reynold E. Blight. About Building in Brentwood Park

Many are hesitating about building on account of their inexperience in the building line. They are unacquainted and the fear of falling into the hands of unreliable architects and contractors is causing them to put off building.

Don't hesitate any longer, you'll lose the opportunity of getting our liberal discount for building as well as the low cost of material and labor.

Our Mr. J. Albert Campbell, at our Brentwood Park office, will put you in touch with reliable architects and builders and relieve you, in every possible way, of the imaginary hardships an owner has to endure while building.

Don't hesitate any longer.

Drive out to Brentwood Park and see Mr. Campbell or call and arrange to have one of our machines drive you out.

The reservation of a room at the TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.
 (At Home.) Reports of increasing confidence in the general industrial fabric of the country caused an upturn in copper, steel and other stocks, and a much stronger tone to speculation as a whole. The demand for copper is much greater than heretofore, both domestic and foreign. A feature in money circles was the strength in foreign exchange, which usually precedes the income of more gold. Short-time loans were lower.
 (Abroad.) At Rome exchanges on the United States were much firmer.
 (For details see financial pages.)

VALUABLE INFORMATION.
 There is a little piece of literature which we feel constrained to recommend to Capt. Dillon and his "Angels." It was written by Anna B. Comstock and is entitled "How to Keep Bees."

IS RUSSIA BROKEN?
 It would not surprise us a lot if Russia did not find some way of breaking from the alliance in order to save what there is left of itself. In the end it is certain to face England on the other side of the fence, anyway.

WAR AS A SEDIMENT.
 There are all kinds of ways of cementing a people. One is to put them in a common distress. In the present war it happens that those most opposed to their respective governments are doing some of the hardest fighting in their behalf.

WORKING KINGS.
 At the northern Baptist convention the suggestion was made that "kings be put to work." Yet the number of hours the kings in Europe are working at present would disqualify them for membership in any labor union. We move as an amendment that "kings be put to useful work."

AN IMPORTANT STEP.
 The residents of Victor Valley have planned a tour to help secure Federal aid for the reclamation of a large tract of good land. We hope they succeed in their important project. They have a beautiful section and it comes under the head of back country for Los Angeles.

CORNER-STONES.
 We were browsing in a book store the other day and noticed sets of Dickens, Dumas, Stevenson and Emerson going for a song. It occurred to us that the world isn't advancing at a breakneck speed in its literature. These books may not sell for the most, but they are still about the best things a man could place in his library.

SHORT ON METHOD.
 We are getting so tired of people who tell us what things are without giving us any idea of what to do about them. Nearly all of the so-called new philosophy assures us all of our everlasting greatness without giving us much of a plan to get it out. Maybe we would all better go back to Carlyle's prescription, "It is in me and, by God, it will out of me!"

HIS MEMORY CHERISHED.
 That was indeed a wonderful tribute Los Angeles paid the memory of Charles Frohman at the Mason Opera-house Tuesday morning. Both the participants in the programme and the audience were finely inclusive. They represented church and theater in a fitting manner. One of the speakers had this message of comfort which should reach every heart in the face of any sorrow. It was that our friends may pass from our own ministrations, but never from the care of God.

A CALL TO ARMS.
 We are grateful to Kitty Gordon for returning to England to nurse soldiers, because it is always pleasant to have Kitty's back turned to us. Kitty served her country well when she advised the able-bodied English actors now at the American front to go home and fight. We have more than a thousand of them over here now, and we think Kitty's advice to them very much superior to the plan of Sir Johnstone Forbes-Robertson, which was to give benefits in America for the English actors out of a job on account of the war. Still, Kitty must remember that it is more pleasant to nurse than to be nursed, even when the nurse is so charming as herself.

SHINGLED HIS WIFE.
 Mrs. Bella Danova of Philadelphia sets an example to all alimony seekers. The common law declares that a man may administer "reasonable chastisement" to his wife. The couple conducted a dressmaking establishment and when the workmanship of his wife was not satisfactory to Mr. Danova he expressed his dissatisfaction by whaling her. She left his bed and board, or rather took away her own bed and board, and set up a rival dressmaking establishment in the same neighborhood, and took away his trade.

A divorce suit is pending. There are charges and counter-charges. The lady says that her lord, who agreed to cherish her, has used a heavy cedar shingle upon her so vigorously that she has been compelled to eat her meals standing. The gentleman says that the wife who promised to honor and obey him has lured his customers away from him, broken up his business and left him as destitute as William Barnes of New York will be after he has paid the judgment for costs in his suit against the big Bull Moose.

THE SHELVING OF LLOYD GEORGE.
 The momentous change in the British Cabinet in the practical depositing of David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, by transferring him to a subordinate position. As "Minister of Munitions" (a newly-created post) his activities will be strictly limited and his influence over the working classes may be for the nation's profit, rather than its loss as heretofore. And so one good thing has come out of the war!

Lloyd George has held a position of extraordinary power for nine years. And he has been responsible for more materialistic and frankly socialistic legislation than the Socialists of England ever dreamed of. Which, it is safe to say, is largely responsible for the fact that the British labor-unions, with the nation in the death grips of war, has shown himself the most spineless, selfish, dependent creature, devoid of patriotism, with no thought beyond feathering his nest at the nation's expense.

As Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George has enjoyed almost autocratic powers over the revenues of the country, the raising of taxation for all purposes, the appropriation of funds for his pet social schemes and for mortgaging his country's resources until the taxpayers found the burden almost insupportable in peace-time—cruel and oppressive now that the war burden is added. For the Liberals had a large majority in the House of Commons, and the ceremony of voting on the Chancellor's budget was quite perfunctory.

That annual budget had become an annual dread, each year adding new burdens, claiming new classes of victims. British capital fled the country; British industries languished to the vanishing point. Lloyd George's state insurance against sickness and unemployment, hailed as a great democratic scheme, put the bulk of the burden upon the state and the employer and created a unique army of malingers several thousand strong.

His old-age pension scheme, non-contributory, by which every destitute man or woman over 65 receives a living income, has discouraged the necessity for thrift and thrown half a million people on state support.

And these paternalistic schemes are costing the country high up to $100,000,000 annually—in addition to the war burden.

He has consistently upheld free trade and opposed protection, because he believed the people must buy cheap. And if no wages were forthcoming to buy with there was always the state insurance. Merchants and manufacturers have received every discouragement—and been made to pay for that, too—because they were employers, instead of employees, so they must be sinful.

This was possible under King George V, but it would not have been possible under Queen Victoria or a monarch of her strength of character. She would never have acquiesced in such far-reaching bills through Parliament under the closure rules, the mortgaging of the future and the deliberate undermining of the independence and self-respect of the British people.

Lloyd George has impoverished England body and soul. In the nine years of his power he has taught the working classes to let the state shoulder all their responsibilities; he has fostered class hatred by denouncing the aristocracy and the great business men in speeches that were perfectly near to instigating mob violence; he has nourished improvidence and selfishness in the masses and shown thrift the door. A brilliant vote-catching politician who, under the guise of social reform, has weakened England so that in this hour of tribulation she finds herself shackled and enfeebled, financially and morally.

That is why Lloyd George has been shorn of his power. And there is a certain irony in the fact that he now serves as Minister of Munitions, for England's shortage of munitions in this war, owing to labor-union strikes, drink and dilatoriness of her workmen, has been a crying scandal. Now they are giving Lloyd George the chance to reap the gratitude of the social benefits he has conferred upon these people. Those billions that have been expended were understood to be purchasing physical and moral improvement for the working classes.

Lloyd George can now prove his case by producing better and more capable, more patriotic citizens than were forthcoming in the old war before state insurance and old-age pensions were ever heard of.

Reginald McKenna, who succeeds Lloyd George in the Exchequer, is also a Liberal, transferred from the Home Office, and formerly of the Admiralty. He is an inconspicuous man who shines in masterly inactivity, and his faculty for administering things as they are avoiding innovations will doubtless be welcome after nine years of passionate, expensive reform.

There is surely a spice of malice in relegating Winston Churchill to the Chancery of the Duchy of Lancaster. Both Churchill and George made their offices dramatic backgrounds for personal exploits which the country found entertaining enough in times of peace, but too dangerous an amusement in war. The Duchy of Lancaster is the most inconspicuous post in the Cabinet, the administration of a small crown property for the King's private purse. There is absolutely no scope for the Winston meteoric brilliance. Arthur Balfour, who succeeds Churchill at the Admiralty, former Conservative Prime Minister, is his very antithesis in character, dignified, thoughtful, philosophically sane and unemotional. John Redmond having declined a position in the Cabinet, Sir Edward Carson represents the Irish voice. The Attorney-Generalship will give his professional ability full scope and make his tireless heroics superfluous. And Sir John Simon, whom he succeeds, will take over the Home Office vacated by McKenna.

Another interesting appointment is that of Bonar Law, Leader of the Opposition, to the Secretaryship of the Colonies. It is a peculiarly-fitting choice, for in many ways Law has filled the gap left by Joseph Chamberlain, in carrying on Chamberlain's imperial policies and will doubtless succeed to the good will felt for Chamberlain in Canada, Australia and South Africa, where he was regarded as an imperial ideal.

The appointment of Sir Stanley Buckmaster, the ogre behind the censorship, to the position of Lord Chancellor, who acts as Speaker for the House of Lords, may be ominous. He may be going to exercise his censorship abilities on noble lords who wish to catch his eye and make a few suggestions as to how the war should be waged.

We don't believe as individuals or as communities in anything so illogical or outrageous as a hereditary ruler in America.

Growing Weather.

But we pay to see and are paid for seeing hereditary rulers in foreign countries. We must turn off the spotlight before the royal figure will fade away.

We won't stand for any American title passing from father to son. But there is no sign as yet that we are honestly opposed to the retention of thrones and titles in Europe. We like things to be different abroad to things at home. But if we make so much to do over foreign kings, who are saturated with democratic ideas, how can we expect their own subjects to shed them as superfluities?

The London speculator who sold seats to Americans at exorbitant prices to witness the coronation procession of King George is hardly likely to look upon a King as superfluous. The foreign seeker for American sympathy in the war, seeing how an American Senator was influenced by a royal interview, can be pardoned for seeing some good points in the King's business.

Nor should we forget that it wasn't the King of Italy, but the Roman populace, that dragged Italy into war with Austria, and it isn't the people of Greece and Bulgaria, but the kings of those countries, that have so far kept them out of it. Kings don't rule by divine right, but through popular effervescence.

B. BEING SAVED.
 Not long ago an evangelist, addressing a congregation in this city, became very enthusiastic and shouted to the people, "We want to save more souls! That should be our only aim! Why, even as I came here today I questioned the motorman on the car concerning his soul's salvation, notwithstanding the fact that I saw above his head a sign which proclaimed me a violator of the law for talking to a motorman while he was on duty."

It seemed to be nothing to this preacher that he was breaking an ordinance designed to protect the lives of people. We, too, believe in enthusiasm in every right direction, but when a religious enthusiast, or any other brand of enthusiast, overleaps the bounds of common sense he wanders out of the way of understanding and becomes a fanatic—and fanaticism is always dangerous to well-organized society. And we submit that when a man is attending to his duty his soul is in very little danger. It is the men who are willing to "lie around" doing nothing for themselves or for the world who need to be attacked by the evangelists and the reformers. It is the idle class, poor and rich, who are most in danger of "losing their souls" in both this world and the next.

KINGS AND DEMOCRATS.
 Kings are superfluous. In the interest of efficiency and economy civilization is supposed to shed its superfluities. But we are not yet as wise as serpents. Even American democracy is unconsciously helping to perpetuate the obsolete claim of "the divine right."

In reality the world clings to its superfluities because so many of them add to the sum of human happiness. Kings are spectacular. Any show, from a dog fight to a royal procession, is dear to the hearts of the people. How much American money, do you suppose, was spent to witness the coronation ceremonies of George of England? What would be the greatest drawing card on any American vaudeville circuit? Not Billy Bryan, nor Billy Sunday, nor Jesse Willard, nor Charlie Chaplin, nor Sarah's amputated limb, but Kaiser William in his war paint.

Royalty and war have far better press agents than they had in the days of the Caesars. Europe, while it is supposed to be growing more democratic, is multiplying the number of royal personages. Commerce has discovered a value in kings. They attract the money-spending members of democracies. In addition they have many other uses or abuses that can be capitalized.

Kings supply good copy for comic papers, fine material for cartoonists, are useful scapegoats for ammunition manufacturers interested in war, horrible examples for ultra-pacifists simple enough to believe they are the real war lords, and give American democracy generally something to talk about. Pictures of European kings are more common in American periodicals than those of native statesmen. Since the war started they have been featured as splendid drawing cards. On what grounds, then, do we suppose that the end of the war is going to see the last of the Old World kings? The New World is actually keeping them alive.

We don't believe as individuals or as communities in anything so illogical or outrageous as a hereditary ruler in America.

Revival of the "Stink Pot."

(CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES)
 BY HUDSON MAXIM,
 Famous Inventor of Explosives.

WHATEVER is strange and weird appeals to the imagination and rouses in us a peculiar interest. The Chinese have employed the "stink pot" from time immemorial, and the pot used it for many thousands of years before the Chinese did.

The employment of a poisonous gas like chlorine, such as has been attributed to the Germans, is quite a different thing from the employment of merely ill-smelling odors, for chlorine is one of the most virulent of irritant poisons, and any living thing dies immediately when placed in an atmosphere of it.

It is reported that the Germans carry the chlorine to the front in steel cylinders, in a condensed or liquid state, and set it free in front of their ranks or trenches when the wind is in a favorable direction, that is to say, when the wind is blowing from them and toward the enemy.

Chlorine is about two and a half times as heavy as air, so that it is blown along the surface of the ground by a favorable wind, and, when used in large quantities, it is very effective as a short range, but it can be used only with a favorable wind and over comparatively level ground, with few obstructions, and even under the most favorable circumstances can be carried to but a very short distance in a sufficient state of concentration to be effective. Although chlorine is much heavier than air, it has a strong affinity for the atmosphere and is very rapidly absorbed by it. Over an uneven ground which sets up innumerable vortices and whorls in the atmosphere, the chlorine is very rapidly mixed with the air and rendered inert.

By far the best and most effective way to use liquid chlorine, or any asphyxiating or poisonous gas, would be to throw it in projectiles upon the ranks or trenches of an enemy, with just enough explosive charge to burst the container.

It may be urged that the use of asphyxiating or poisonous gases in bombs or projectiles is contrary to international law and the usages of war. This may be true; still none of the belligerents of the present war have been very greatly hampered by previous usage or cumbered by international law. Surely there can be nothing more unethical in the use of an asphyxiating gas in bombs or projectiles than in employing it as it is claimed that the Germans have employed it.

There are many substances which may be employed to poison or asphyxiate an enemy, either by tempering the wind or by use in projectiles. Hydrocyanic acid, known as prussic acid, is so poisonous that a mere breath of it means instant death. Sulphuric anhydride, when brought in contact with the air, combines rapidly with moisture absorbed from the air, producing sulphuric acid. Thrown in a bomb, with just explosive charge enough to disrupt the bomb and scatter the sulphuric anhydride, the air for a large space about the explosion would be at once converted into a dense fog of sulphuric acid.

Liquid ammonia similarly employed would instantly so impregnate the atmosphere with ammonia as to strangle all persons in the immediate vicinity. Ammonia is absolutely irrespirable. It cannot be breathed.

In the present great European conflict the rules or laws of war have been generally ignored. Before the present war broke out we were assured by the pacifists not only that there would not be any more great wars, but also that human nature had improved so much in recent years and brotherly love had become such a potentiality that men would no longer have the heart to kill one another and that, even should war come, it would be a most merciful and unselfish war.

But the present war has not been marked for mercifulness and unselfishness. Things have been done of such brutality as to shock the shade of old Attila and make the fossil part of him turn in his grave.

The lesson to us Americans is to be so prepared against the dread eventuality of war as to preclude the possibility of its coming by making the necessity of keeping peace with Uncle Sam the supreme necessity of any other nation.

One way to beat Old Father Time is to furnish the press with a picture of many years ago, when the ocean was an arid. It is a favorite sport.

What has become of the boy who made a specialty of solos on the organ? Don't you remember him? He used to render "Sweet Evening."

The war veterans in the parade Monday will march by six blocks. The title of blue is not as spruce as it was when tramped away to the music of the drum.

The free clinic for the cure of the venereal disease is all right, but two-thirds of a solution of nitrate of silver, which is the will power of the victim, will cure the disease.

Why should the Board of Supervisors for the half-cents of the Sebastian? What is the matter with the old-fashioned method of a bowl fit tightly on the head and the once-over with a pair of shears?

Some miscreant has stolen data on standardization of salaries of city employees just prepared by Director of the city efficiency bureau, whatever the horrors and, as a sort of appeasement, the Jehosophat! Ain't it terrible?

AN ANSWER.
O perfect rose, I love you so.
I grieve to think you die so soon.
You opened in the morning glow.
You'll fade beneath the pallid moon.
O fairest rose, why must it be
That love and life so fade like thee?

O fairest rose, my lips inhale
The incense of thy perfumed breath.
Is thy brief beauty but a veil
That hides from me thy mortal death?
My crimson rose, why must it be
That love and life so fade like thee?

Have you an answer, sweetest?
Your velvet petals touch my cheek.
Would you a mystery disclose?
"I do but seem to die," you say.
"The rose lives on though I decay."

down the street, God only knows what. Perhaps death; perhaps worse. They have a fire lasting perhaps several hours. The fire out, they return to quarters, change clothes, as they are in all probability soaked wet, and go to bed.

A little later another alarm. Again they are up and out on the street. This time, perhaps, it is a false alarm. Perhaps even a bigger fire than before. The same men who answer these alarms are the same ones who answer calls to fire the next day and the next night, and so on, for the stated four days.

Another fact not commonly known is that if an alarm is turned in from any part of the city all the men on duty regardless of what district they are in, are obliged to be up and ready, which is frequently the case as often as six or eight times in one night.

How much better these men could work if there were two shifts. There is no other institution which requires its employees to serve so many hours. You wouldn't expect it from anyone else. Why from a fireman? He is human, and he is tired.

The proposed two-plateau or two-shift system would eliminate in a measure these hardships from the life of a fireman, greatly improve the efficiency of the fire department, and enable the insurance companies to reduce their insurance premiums 25 to 50 per cent.

Those of you who love and enjoy your homes and families, give the fireman a chance to do likewise by giving the two-plateau ordinance your favorable consideration.

GREASY TRACKS,

FOUR PERSONS INJURED AT FIRST AND BROADWAY.

Temple-street Trolley Rams Crown Hill Car and Another Smashes "Millionaire Law Student's" Automobile—Many are Shocked in the First Crash.

Skating wheels sliding over oiled rails rammed a Temple-street car into a Crown Hill street car at First and Broadway yesterday afternoon, injuring four persons and shattering twenty others, and wrecking both cars.

Before the debris could be cleaned away the $5000 motor car driven by Miss Evelyn J. Costello, No. 1417 South Figueroa street, known as "the millionaire law student," was rammed by another Crown Hill car skating down the same hill with limp brakes and a frightened motorman. Miss Costello's machine was much damaged.

Those injured in the first accident are Miss Anna Kahn, No. 455 North Figueroa street, head cut and body bruised, Receiving Hospital; Mrs. M. Mrs. Ellen Nevel, No. 1941 Sunset boulevard, back injured, shocked and bruised, Receiving Hospital; Mrs. M. Busse, No. 529 California street, scalp cut, body bruised; R. L. Beacock, No. 722 West Third street, back wrenched.

Other passengers were injured in a minor degree. The hot day had greased the tracks with escaping oil from the motor cars taking the West First street grade. The magnetic brakes of the street cars refused to grip. The Crown Hill car was straddling down the grade between Hill and Broadway with a full load of passengers. The Temple-street car was hurrying from the car barn to the station at First and Broadway for the first run in the heavy night traffic.

The brakes of the Crown Hill car took effect at the bottom of the grade and it was nearly stationary, taking the turn slowly, when the quick-sliding Temple-street car crashed into the rear. Mrs. Kahn and Mrs. Nevel, who were in the open section of the Crown Hill car, were thrown against the side. Breaking glass caused minor cuts. Along the side seats in the interior of the car the passengers were tossed into a heap in the center.

The Crown Hill car was manned by Motorman H. E. Jacquelyn and Conductor G. M. Bramington. The crew of the Temple-street car were John Campbell and Conductor W. E. Evans.

OLD HORSEMAN DEAD.
C. S. Bacon, the old horseman who sat in the window of his room Sunday and was host to a crowd of horsemen to pass in the street, and then turned on the gas because he realized the horse business was a thing of the past, died in his room here yesterday. He never completely regained consciousness. As a tribute to his love old horses, he will be taken to the cemetery in a horse-drawn hearse. He was 70 years old, and had no relatives in the West.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

DINNER in the moonlight! 'Twas this unique, original mode of diversion the Dean Masons, No. 340 Andrews boulevard, chose last night when they entertained fifty guests—a pretty complimentary extended to Miss Daphne Drake and Sayre Macneil.

Mr. and Mrs. James Calhoun Drake, Mrs. H. W. R. Strong, Mrs. Randolph Huntington Miner, Mrs. George J. Denis and Mrs. Granville MacGowan assisted.

A red decorative motif was executed in the exquisite table settings—one long board being laid on the spacious porch—with quantities of red lawns forming a veritable floral bed, from which fell at intervals gorgeous bows and knots of red tulle, accentuated by the soft glow shed from innumerable tapers in scintillating holders of crystal.

A Venetian quartette strolled through the garden singing love ballads or playing dulcet serenades, and an orchestra was in attendance, playing from a rose bower for the dancing, which followed in the music-room just off the porch. Terpsichore devotees kept them busy until the wee sma' hours.

The occasion added fresh laurels to Mrs. Mason's ability as a hostess who is ever the embodiment of graciousness to her friends, and simultaneously injecting new ideas into her art of hospitality.

Dinner Hostess.

Mrs. Eugene W. Britt of No. 2141 West Adams will be a dinner hostess Tuesday evening, June 2.

Luncheon Today.

Twelve ladies are bidden to a luncheon today, given by Mrs. Cosmo Morgan, Jr., at her home on No. 2344 West Twenty-fourth street, in compliment to Mrs. Cosmo George Morgan of San Francisco, who is a cherished house guest of her son and daughter. Mrs. Morgan will contribute an afternoon tea to next week's social happenings.

Dinner Dance.

A delightful informal dinner dance was given by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Seely at their pretty home, No. 1415 Burlington, last night, honoring Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McGaffey and Mrs. Cora Freeman, who are leaving the city soon for the summer, the McGaffey for New Mexico and Mrs. Freeman going East about July 1. Covers were placed for twenty-six.

Hostess at Two Affairs.

Mrs. Franklin Howard Nichols, whose delightful bridge luncheon yesterday was attended by sixty guests, is today extending her gracious hospitality to a like number of additional friends whom she will entertain also at luncheon, with auction as a pleasant afternoon's diversion.

At yesterday's affair, given at the hostess's home, No. 977 Menlo avenue, spring baskets of garden flowers with their gorgeous colorings—corn flowers, cornopsis, double daisies, bachelor's buttons, gladioli—interspersed with delicate maiden hair fern and feathery gypsophila, formed a very attractive adornment for the small tables with their lace covers, afterwards appropriated for cards. Places were marked with monogrammed cards.

For a June Bride.

A pretty compliment was paid Miss Christine Pauly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pauly, of Glendale, on Saturday afternoon, when Miss Maryot Bayard catered with a miscellaneous shower. Five hundred was played. Miss Pauly was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Frances Bayard.

Miss Pauly is the affianced bride of E. J. Funch of this city, and their marriage next month will be of interest to their many friends.

Shirt-Waist Dance.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Kendis have issued invitations for a shirt-waist dance to be given at their home, No. 1710 West Sixth street on the evening of June 5.

For Life-Long Friends.

Miss Helen Mathewson, No. 508 South Ardmore avenue, gave a dinner Tuesday night in compliment to her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar van Etten, of New York. The attractive board, where were seated twelve guests, was centered in a graceful arrangement of pink Killarney roses, accented by pink tulle and lighter softly veiled in the same exquisite colorings.

Miss Mathewson and Mrs. Van Etten are life-long friends, and the visit which will be of at least a fortnight's duration, is proving decidedly felicitous. Mr. van Etten was formerly vice-president of the New York Central Railroad.

Miss Mathewson is going East about July 15 to visit the Van Etten in their summer home, Pinehurst, in the Adirondacks.

Home Party at Pomona.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lee, who have a lovely home at Pomona, entertained a merry house party over last week-end, in honor of Mrs. Ledyard S. Cuyler of Rochester, N. Y., who is a house guest of the A. F. Selbys of Manhattan place.

Has Come from India.

Miss Edith M. Santee, a former resident of Orleans, Neb., but for the past seven years a missionary to India, being stationed in the Yeotmal district in the province of Berar, is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Hal H. Benner, at their home, No. 4156 Wall street. Miss Santee will leave shortly to attend the national conference of her church, which convenes in Chicago on June 2.

To Entertain Sixty Ladies.

At her home, No. 914 Alvarado street, Mrs. Turner Elmer Weatherholt will entertain sixty ladies at a bridge tea on Tuesday afternoon.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement is announced of Miss Rose Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Becker, No. 1639 Winfield street, to A. L. Slicht. Both have a host of friends in Los Angeles and in the East.

Are in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Young are in New York, and expect to go later to Philadelphia, Boston and other eastern points of interest. Before they return to their Los Angeles home the Youngs will stop in San Francisco to view the exposition.

Summer on Lake Placid.

Mrs. L. L. Ormsby of the Hotel Pepper has gone to the Adirondacks for the summer, and will be located on Lake Placid.

For Visitors.

Mrs. Walter Ferrier and Miss Jennie Coulter of Chicago were entertained at luncheon at the Alexandria by Mrs. Charles Walker Williams on Wednesday.

For Sixteen Guests.

Mrs. Adolph Ramish, No. 1849 Gramercy place, was hostess to a delightful luncheon and auction bridge party Wednesday afternoon.

Birthday Surprise Party.

When Mrs. T. L. Kleckner of No. 1560 East Twenty-second street returned from the theater last Saturday she was much surprised to find that her home had been invaded by an admiring coterie of friends gathered to assist in observing the anniversary of her natal day.

On Way to Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bilhars and their two children left yesterday for their home in Iowa, after an exceedingly pleasant stay in the Emil Bilhars home in Hollywood.

Recent Event.

Miss Maud Thomas and Miss Ellie Mosgrove of No. 636 West Adams street entertained a coterie of intimate friends at tea Wednesday afternoon, the affair being stamped by its informality.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Tomorrow evening at the Little Theater the Channel Club will entertain its friends with an evening devoted to a brief poetic drama, "Rose of the Wind," and later dancing and refreshments in the pretty ballroom above the theater.

Much interest has been manifested in this "coming-out affair" of a club composed exclusively of interpreters of literature.

The patronesses for the evening are among the best-known and most delightful women in Los Angeles, and the dramatic personae includes in the roles the cleverest amateurs in the city. The production is being staged by Lillian Burkhardt Goldsmith, a mistress of dramatic art.

The incidental music has been especially written for the evening's play by a newcomer, Miss Elizabeth von der Leuth. Miss Myrtle Ouellet is the harpist and Mr. and Mrs. F. Staples 'cello and violin.

Blanche Hardy Morgan will play the title role; Mrs. Fred Selwyn Lang, Sebastian, the cobbler; Mrs. J. B. Stearns, the minstrel from fairyland, and clever little Mrs. Alfred Allen, Nora—Sebastian's betrothed.

Ruth Comfort Mitchell Young, whose poetry is recognized and spoken of more than favorably in eastern publications, has written a quaint prelude to the play, which Mrs. Goldsmith will speak.

All lovers of poetic drama should not fail to go to the Little Theater tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, if they desire to enjoy the treat of the season.

Friday Morning.

Miss Louise Brigham will give a stereoscopic lecture on the cause and rapid growth of box furniture at the Friday Morning Club today. The

BATTLE ENDS
IN NEAR-RIOT.

Salt Lake Players Charge on Umpire Williams.

Athletes Lose Their Heads
Over Close Decision.

Hannah is Soaked Ten Dollars for Shoving.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.
I'd like to be the leaman.
And with the leaman stand;
With a snow belt round my tum-tum,
And the North Pole in my hand.

I'd refrigerate my fingernails.
To a temperature real low;
And have my bed heaved out of ice,
And the quilts stuffed full of snow.

I'd wear a fresser for a hat.
An ice hook for a charm;
I'd take a snow man for a chum,
And start a snow ball farm.

I'd live in an ice palace,
With an iceberg for a door;
Have the windows frescoed frostily;
Crystal carpet on the floor.

I'd eat cold stuff to beat the band.
Till it hard-finished me inside;
Then tell my friends to plant me,
In a glacier when I died.

Sure, all of us went crazy with the heat. It was a torrid afternoon.
Everything about it was all het up.
The weather was hot and it was a hot game with a hotter finish, while the heat went to the heads of the Salt Lake players and charged them from busy little bees into a bunch of hornets with a protruding desire to sting somebody to death.

Nick Williams, making his first appearance here as an umpire, was the center of their angry attentions. Nick was all but mobbed, and shaken down to his toes, when the visiting players charged him in a solid phalanx as a result of a ruling at the plate in the ninth inning that retired Salt Lake and wiped away their last chance to win.

The demonstration came as a climax to a hard-fought battle in which Long Tom Hughes was returned a 3-to-2 winner over H. W. Greer.

The real loser, however, was Truck Hannah, the Salt Lake catcher, who was soaked $10 for shoving Williams in the stomach. It is hard to imagine a worse calamity than this. Ten dollars is a lot of money.

LEADING TO THE FRACAS.
Here is the situation leading up to the fracas:
The teams swung into the ninth inning with Los Angeles leading, 3 to 2. The first two men were retired handily, and all the ladies and gentlemen present were preparing to pull their weight. Then all of a sudden Hughes walked Barbours. Right there the bees began making a final bid. Although suspended and barred indefinitely from wearing short pants, Blankenship was sitting in a stand box next to the Salt Lake bench offering advice and consolation to his players. Eddie Page, a fleet youngster, was sent in to run for Barbours.
Hannah hacked a single to left. Page sprinted from first to third. With Gregory at bat, the stage was all primed for a double steal. Hannah started down with the pitch. Boles made a bluff at throwing to second, and then whipped to third. The pitch hit Page, who was scrambling back to third, on the space usually reserved for the hip pocket. It caromed therefrom out toward short.

Page was quick to observe what had happened, and picking himself up beat it for the plate. Metzger ran over and pounced on the pill, and whipped to Boles. Williams, standing directly over the play, waved Page out, ending the game.

THE POOR UMP.
Almost before you could say scat,
the Salt Lake players were swarming around Williams like a wad of writhing wasps. Blankenship came over the railing out of the box like a pole vaulter, and joined his men. He pro-

OAKS HIT PIERCEY AND REIGER; WALLOP TIGERS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—
Three-batters and two-batters predominated in a free hitting game at Oakland today with the Oaks finally topping Venice 5 to 2.

Of the triples there were four all told, evenly divided between the opposing armies. Five doubles came to life and though the southerners had the major share of the luck in that regard, they were far less fortunate in chasing their runners around the bases.

Elmer Reiger, who started affairs for Venice, failed to make good and he was hastily ejected somewhere along in the center of the sixth, when the going was rough and the Oaks were manufacturing enough runs to take a lead. Piercey concluded the heaving stunt and before he had settled to his task, the Oaks touched him for another three-bagger and put two more over the pan, a fortunate proceeding, since it gave them a clear claim to the home.

Ray Boyd faced a lacing that would have sent many another pitcher to the clubhouse, but once he had weathered the storm he made a mighty good showing for the balance of the journey.

Venice's tripling was confined to the first inning. Three-base swats by Carlisle and Berger, a sacrifice fly by Kane and a single for Dick Bayless counted for two runs. The Oaks couldn't get up courage to swat the Reiger offerings until the sixth, when they fell to with a will.

U.S.C. WITHDRAWS FROM SOUTHERN CONFERENCE.

THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA CONFERENCE has busted.
U.S.C. withdrew last night, leaving Pomona and Occidental alone.
This drastic action was taken by the Athletic Board of Control at the University.

Before adjourning it requested the Faculty Athletic Committee to make a set of eligibility rules. That body met and adopted the rules of the old Stanford-California agreement. The Trojans will use the standards applied at Stanford and try to pattern as fast as possible after California.

"We have only the friendliest feelings," said Warren Board last night, "for Occidental and Pomona. But we felt we could not follow the conference laws. I have been looking over the Harvard, Yale and Princeton agreements and come to the conclusion that we should follow them.

"We have adopted rules for our own students. We will let the other fellow draw up his.
"If Occidental and Pomona wish to enter dual agreements with us, it will tickle us to death. Student Manager Fred Toshke and myself will immediately busy ourselves negotiating games, meets and contests."

LARRY PAPE IS OUT HIS MONEY.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CINCINNATI (O.) May 27.—The National Baseball Commission today affirmed a decision of the National Board in disallowing the claim of Piercey L. A. Page for $400 against the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League.

Pape contended that he was entitled to salary for the unexpired period of his contract, he having been released in midseason under a five days' release notice clause. His claim was based on the allegation that he did not read his contract and did not know the five-day release notice clause was in it.

BARNEY OLDFIELD WITH-DRAWS FROM BIG RACE.

Speed King Couldn't Agree on Price of a Sunbeam and Pulled Out — Stutz Crew Gave Great Speed Exhibition in the Workouts — Much Stale Stuff Released at Drivers' Meeting.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27.—The many fans gathered here for Saturday's clash in the 500-mile sweepstakes were handed a great disappointment today when it was announced that Barney Oldfield would not be at the wheel of a Sunbeam. The Sunbeam factory failed to agree over the price of the car with the veteran. Oldfield attempted to purchase the car after he had qualified it, but the division of the purse in the coming race seemed to be the thorn in the side of the owners of the Sunbeam cars.

A real exhibition of what speed is really concealed in the motors of the Sunbeams was shown when Porpoise, just before the final closing of practice, made lap after lap at the rate of ninety-four miles per hour. The Italian with the English mount has been a real sensation all during the week. When the track has been slippery he has driven his Sunbeam around the track, taking chances that the average pilot would not attempt.

This morning, while the rain was pouring down on the course, he was the only driver to attempt to try the course.

The Stutz crew came out on the track in the afternoon, and Wilcox, Anderson and Cooper furnished, as much entertainment as will be given during the battle Saturday. That the Stutz crew will be more than a factor was impressed on the race birds by the ease with which the pilots drove around the track.

Final instructions were given to the pilots tonight and all is now in readiness for the battle of cylinders. At the drivers' meeting tonight the expected did not happen and as a result the drivers were forced to listen to the same speeches that have been given since the inception of the 500-mile classic.

"Never look back" and "watch the man behind," as in former years, was the gist of the talks by officials which consumed more than two hours of valuable time.

It was expected by many that several questions as to rules of qualifying would be raised by Barney Oldfield. Harry Grant and Ray Harroun.
The questions were raised at the meeting, but avoided by those in charge and as a result Oldfield will be among the missing and it is a certainty that only three Maxwells instead of four will leave the starting mark when the final bomb is fired Saturday.

LIPTON FROWNS ON PROPOSED TRIALS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
BOSTON, May 27.—Sir Thomas Lipton, whose yacht, Shamrock IV,
the challenger for the America's cup,
is laid up in Brooklyn during the war period, does not regard with favor the proposed renewal of the trials this summer between the cup defending candidates Resolute and Vantile, according to letters received by his friends in this city.

It is understood, however, by local yachtsmen that the Resolute and Van-tile will be raced as vigorously this summer as if a cup contest were pending next fall. It is admitted that a large majority of the twenty tuning-up contests in which the two yachts engaged last summer were unsatisfactory.

MISS HYDE TO DEFEND TITLE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SCARBOROUGH (N. Y.) May 27.—
As a result of a semifinal for the women's metropolitan championship at the Sleepy Hollow Country Club
today, Miss Lillian R. Hyde of South Shore, L. I., will defend her title in the final tomorrow against Mrs. J.
E. Davis of Piping Rock, L. I.

Miss Hyde defeated Mrs. H. Reeves Stockton, Plainfield, N. J., 6 to 5, and Mrs. Davis beat Mrs. W. J. Faith,
Wyckoff, N. Y., 7 and 6.

DEVON WINS FROM FREEBOOTER FOUR.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—The Devon polo team defeated the Bryn Mawr Freebooters 13 1/2 to 5 goals in the second match of the Woodcrest cup tournament today at Bryn Mawr.
Harrison of Cincinnati scored the only goal earned by the Freebooters, who were allowed a handicap of five and lost one by penalty. Devon earned thirteen goals and lost three-quarters by penalty.

FREDDIE WELSH
TO FIGHT WHITE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, May 27.—A twenty-round fight in Denver,
July 5, between Freddie Welsh, world's lightweight champion,
and Charley White of Chicago, was tentatively arranged here tonight when the managers of the two fighters. It was announced, agreed to compromise the differences in terms which have interfered with the clinching of the match. Word was only awaited, it was said, as to whether the compromise terms would prove acceptable to the Denver promoters of the match.

CRAVATH'S HOME RUN DRIVES IN TWO TALLIES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—Chicago tried hard to overcome the big lead which Philadelphia took in the first two innings, but lost, 1 to 5. Baker made a home run, a triple and a double in four innings at bat, while Cravath's homer in the first inning sent in two other runners.

By HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

TO TRANSFER NEWARK CLUB.

(BY A. P. HOLT.)

NEW YORK, May 27.—Strong rivalry on the part of the Federal League with the International League in Newark has led to many reports recently that Newark will be dropped from the International League circuit and the team transferred to some Connecticut city. The reports were revived today, with Bridgeport given as the city likely to get the club.

Designed in France Built in America

Two years ago Benjamin Briscoe, a man of wide experience in automobile building in this country, went over to Paris to study the progress made in French motor car designing. The result—Benjamin Briscoe has given to America the most marvelous automobile value in this country, a typically French car, unique in design, wonderful in efficiency, for $785—this price f. o. b. factory.

Any man who has any thought of buying a moderate priced automobile owes it to himself to see and examine most carefully this masterpiece motor car construction and design. The Briscoe combines many new and important construction features—features which French engineers created and which will be standard in American factories two or three years from now.

Nowhere in Europe do they think of discarding a car after a couple of years of service. The "BRISCOE" is built for long service. It will deliver it.

While the "BRISCOE" has only been on the American market for a matter of two years, there is back of this car eleven of the best years of the life of its designer, Mr. Briscoe. It is backed by a manufacturing plant of unassailable financial strength. Its future is assured.

You will recognize the "BRISCOE" on the streets by its distinctive style, the one center headlight, the crown hub caps and radiator cap—the typically French lines.

$785 is the price for the 1915 Briscoe Model, 5-passenger touring car or 3-passenger roadster; fully equipped, including one-man top, boot, windshield, speedometer, wire wheels, Parisian curtains, high-tension magneto, electric light generator, electric starter and the usual articles of equipment found on the highest grade cars.

The tires are guaranteed for 5000 miles.

CORNSTARCH

The Food Product With a Thousand Uses

There is probably no food product in general use today which serves more purposes in the hands of the up-to-date housekeeper than cornstarch. She uses it for thickening her gravies and sauces—which is the secret of their rich, creamy consistency, and the smoothness of taste that can be acquired in no other way; she uses it to obtain the fine texture of her bread, biscuits and cakes; for making her pie crust perfect and flaky; for sherbets, ice cream, custards, short cakes, waffles, chocolate eclairs and a thousand and one other things too numerous to mention.

PRICES SHOW IMPROVEMENT.

DOMESTIC DEVELOPMENTS HAVE CONTROL OF MARKET.

Copper Enjoys the Most Strength of the List, Advancing on an Increased Demand—Steel Also in Higher—Fluctuations are Held Within a Narrow Range.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, May 27.—Domestic developments rather than foreign affairs were the governing factors of today's stock and bond market.

After four hours of aimless drift, in which prices rose and fell mostly within a narrow range, the market closed with some improvement over early irregularity.

Reversals of the morning were mainly due to recurrent weakness in Rock Island and the Missouri Pacific issues, the former breaking to the low record of 15 1/2.

Rock Island's decline was status is soon again to come under Federal review and Missouri Pacific's note extension plan is progressing with some hesitancy, less than two months ago.

On the whole, copper shares showed the most consistent strength, advancing because of renewed domestic demand coupled with the belief that some of the speculative issues are soon to go on higher dividend basis.

United States Steel was in demand on reports that leading interests had expressed greater confidence in the future of the company's earnings.

Norfolk and Western reported a heavy loss—$354,000—but this was offset by a handsome gain in surplus from other sources.

Total sales of stocks amounted to 282,000 shares.

The strength of lines, or remittances on Rome, was the feature of the foreign exchange market.

Domestic loans for 60 and 90 days were lower on the increasing supply of capital at reserve banks.

Changes in bond prices generally were trivial. Total sales par value amounted to $2,200,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

NEW WELL KEEPS UP LARGE FLOW.

WESTERN UNION GUSHER DOES OVER THREE THOUSAND BARRELS DAILY.

The Western Union Oil Company's No. 58 gusher, which came in last Thursday, and which is one of the most sensational producers ever finished in the Santa Maria field, is now doing about 2800 barrels daily. It came in at the rate of 5400 barrels daily, and during the first four days yielded a total of 17,700 barrels, according to Morris Albee, secretary of the company.

The stock of the Western Union has advanced about 13 points this week on the strike, and is now selling at 10 1/2. The directors have declared a dividend of $1 a share for the present month, this being the first distribution made since last January. The company was unable to ship oil for some time on account of a wash-out at the Associated Oil Company's pipe line.

The Western Union's new well is within 1000 feet of the famous No. 27, which has yielded 200 barrels daily since 1908. The new well was drilled within 100 feet of No. 39, which was abandoned about six years ago on account of a wash-out. The 58's initial yield was the largest of any producer since the Union Harbinger well was brought in some years ago.

The Western Union Oil Company delivered about 10,000 barrels last month. The production of the company would be increased to over 100,000 barrels a month if the new well keeps up its present flow.

No difficulty has been encountered in storing the oil thus far, as the company has considerable available space in its tanks. The Associated is also making arrangements to take the additional production. The well's flow is also being held down as much as possible.

OIL FIELD MAPS.

Congressman Charles H. Randall of Highland Park has received a supply of maps of the Kern River oil fields, just issued by the United States Geological Survey. These maps are the most elaborate ever issued of this field, showing wells, tanks, reservoirs, etc. The contour interval is twenty feet. The maps are being distributed to the oil men. Mr. Randall will be glad to supply copies to oil men.

Ad Men's Convention.

cal needs, which will endure forever.

Therefore the twin giants—business and advertising, carry the world on their shoulders. One cannot get along without the other. Taken together they are the greatest power in the world.

Mr. Appel then traced the origin of the merchant from the peddler with his pack, which was the first "department store," down to the great stores of the present. The speaker also traced the origin of advertising, declaring that the devil perhaps was the first advertiser when he handed the apple to Eve.

WANAMAKER'S WAY.

Mr. Appel spoke of retail advertising in particular, explaining how the advertising of the Wanamaker store is conducted on the plan of a newspaper. He said that the store was treated as a city in itself and that the store news was gathered by reporters and the advertisements written in the form of news stories.

The expert declared that advertising is as honest as the man who signs his name to it, and that in advertising is labor. He spoke of the importance of the distribution of wealth, and labor and merchandise in the evolution of the world's affairs, and pointed out the strategic position of the merchant between the producer and the consumer.

On the prosperity of the merchant depend the prosperity of the country. Mr. Appel continued, "Good can be produced only as the merchant sells them."

In conclusion, Mr. Appel compared life to a great wheel with the hub in the center composed of men and women working shoulder to shoulder with the spokes of education and religion, and the spokes of people forming the spokes.

The convention opened headquarters at the Clark yesterday morning. President R. L. Risby called the convention
